Rogers Flies Here, Meets Cattlemen On Dire Feed Problem

U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers, Ft. Lauderdale, made a flying trip to South Florida yesterday in the interest of the area's hard-pressed cattlemen and vegetable growers.

Rep. Rogers concerned himself principally with the cattlemen, who are faced with the necessity of buying feed for their stock now that much of the area's pastures have been laid waste by cold weather.

The Congressman met with representatives of all cattle associations in the southern Florida counties to learn the extent of frost damage to pastures and to speed emergency aid to cattlemen if their warrants fit.

The meeting was in the courthouse at Moore Haven. Next move, it was agreed, is to place the facts before Gov. LeRoy Collins, who then must appeal to President Eisenhower to have the cattlemen's plight labeled a "disaster" also.

If this is done — and there is no evidence to the contrary — the U. S. Department of Agriculture will send agents into the area, who will issue certificates for local purchases of feed.

Under this set-up, cattlemen will be able to buy feed for basic herds at discounts of $1 per 100 pounds or $20 per ton. Rep. Rogers also checked on emergency loans to vegetable growers whose crops were damaged heavily by the long cold spell.

Bank's Capital Doubled As Shareholders Meet

BELLE GLADE — Two executive promotions and the first increase in bank capitalization highlighted the annual shareholders meeting of the Florida National Bank at Belle Glade, Wednesday.

Promoted were J. F. Wooten, from cashier to vice president; and Russell E. Tucker, to cashier from assistant cashier.

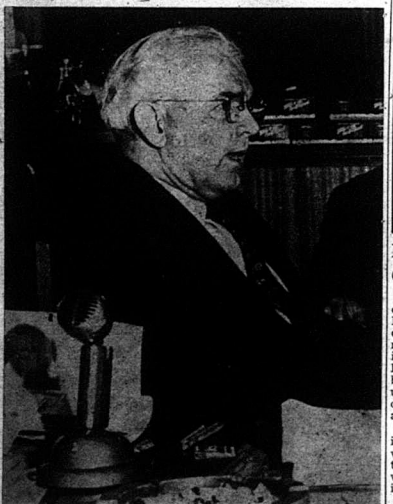

The shareholders voted to increase the bank's capitalization from $50,000 to $100,000, the first such increase since the bank was founded in 1941. Its capital structure will now show $100,000 capital, $100,000 surplus, and undivided profits and reserves of $32,708.

Re-elected as bank directors were Edwin M. Lively, Belle Glade, president; Dean S. Campbell, Miami; E. E. Kelly, Clewiston; R. M. Van Landingham, and Mrs. Ruth S. Wedgworth, Belle Glade.

Re-elected assistant cashier was Deryle I. Calhoun. Shareholders expressed their satisfaction with the progress of the bank, which has paid dividends annually since the bank's founding, Mr. Lively said.

Florida Products Fete

During Jan. 19-28 all of Florida will pay tribute to the things Florida grows and makes as the Florida Products Festival is celebrated. Everyone is being asked to buy Florida products and to serve Florida foods during the celebration.

GLADES VISITOR — U. S. Sen. Spessard Holland met with farmers of the Glades area recently to discuss the problems they face as a result of the long cold spell. The meeting was held at the Pioneer Growers in Belle Glade. E. C. McCabe was spokesman for the group. Grant Averill, Belle Glade photographer, caught this profile study of Sen. Holland.

Sheriff Turns In $21,858

In Excess Fees To County

WEST PALM BEACH — County Sheriff John Kirk turned in $21,858 in excess fees to the county commission this week and observed, "I'm not sure it will ever happen again."

The amount, according to Commissioner Lake Loyal, was more than twice as much as had been turned in by the sheriff's department since 1947.

The sheriff, in his report, showed expenses of $207,000 for running his department the past year.

Felsing Is New Head Of Glades Fair Board

BELLE GLADE — The Board of Directors of the Everglades Fair Association met Monday evening at the Chamber of Commerce and elected Urban Felsing president replacing Dale Ellis, who has resigned. Mrs. Ueba Carruthers was elected treasurer, replacing Felsing in that office. She formerly was assistant treasurer.

There was discussion regarding hiring a paid fair manager who will take over operation of the fair from the Association when that group has completed its phase of the planning work. The Association will consider applications from persons who feel qualified to manage the fair. Applications may be made with Mrs. Felsing or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Next meeting of the board has been set for 8 p.m. Monday at the Chamber of Commerce office.

LOANS NOW AVAILABLE FOR FLOOD STRICKEN FARMERS

Ike Pares Flood Aid In Budget

President Eisenhower's budget, submitted to Congress this week, includes $8,500,000 for flood control in central and southern Florida.

U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers, Ft. Lauderdale, who has pressed actively for the $15,000,000 requested by the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District for this fiscal year, said that while the amount would not represent the total request, he feels there may be a possibility of increasing it in the budget before it comes before committee.

Rep. Rogers, together with U. S. Sens. Spessard Holland and George Smathers have indicated they will follow this legislation and press strongly for the necessary money with which to continue this vital flood control program.

All feel, they said in Washington, that the amount requested by the U. S. Engineers, is the amount needed.

It was revealed also in Washington that the President's budget contained a request for $200,000 to help pay for deepening the Intracoastal Waterway from Eau Gallie through the lower east coast.

Rep. Rogers indicated he will fight for the funds necessary to complete the project as early as possible.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Barstow

SOUTH BAY — Services were held in Creston, Iowa, for Mrs. Mabel West Barstow, former school teacher and former wife of the town of South Bay. Mrs. Barstow, who was 66, died in Denver, Colo., where she had gone last November to stay with her daughter, Miss Ruth Barstow.

A native of Creston, Mrs. Barstow moved to South Bay in 1925. She was a member of the South Bay Methodist Church and the Woodmen of the World Auxiliary. She also was a correspondent for the South Bay Herald.

Besides her daughter, she leaves two sons, Don, of South Bay, and Thomas Carl, St. Louis, Mo.; several sisters and one grandchild.

Chamber To Back Products Festival

BELLE GLADE — The Board of Directors of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce pledged its support to the Florida Products Festival at a meeting this week and will urge restaurant owners and grocers to go along.

Both groups will be asked to feature Florida products on menus and in merchandising campaigns, it was reported by Mrs. Edwin Young, secretary.

The Chamber decided not to enter a vegetable exhibit in the Palm Beach County fair because of hardships caused by the recent weather.

Plans for a fishing tournament, and reported that its tourist pamphlet is to be edited and printed.

To date, 776 auto license tags have been sold at the Chamber, Mrs. Young said.

THIS SNOOK'S NO SPOOK — Gary Folds, 12, of Canal Point, displays the unwary snook he caught in Lake Okechobee last Saturday with his bare hands. Mr. Snook measured 37 1/2 inches, weighed 15 pounds. Gary measures 58 inches, weighs 88 pounds.

Boy Catches Sneaky Snook Without Line Or Hook

Are there snook in Lake Okechobee? There sure are, and a guy who is real lucky can even catch 'em by hand, if he's an enterprising enough fisherman.

Or so says Gary Folds, who's been telling his new seventh grade classmates at Canal Point school this week all about the "sneaky" snook which didn't get away from him last Saturday morning.

Last week — on Friday the 13th, in fact — Gary moved from Sanford to Canal Point, where his father, Harris, is associated with Florida Vegetable Sales, Inc. On Saturday morning, Gary and his 14-year old brother, "Sonny," took off to explore the lakefront at Canal Point beach where the West Palm Beach canal enters the lake.

The boys walked along the lake shore and watched a Navy seaplane land and take off. Gary happened to look down along the water's edge, and spotted the snook which had apparently been washed up among rocks in the shallow water.

Gary's a veteran hunter and fisherman, it develops, and was armed for any sporting emergency. He was carrying a pearl-handled 4-inch blade camper's knife his buddies of his church

11th Annual Fair To Open

WEST PALM BEACH — The 11th annual Palm Beach County Fair opens its gates at 7 p. m. today in John Prince Park. A grand parade is scheduled at that time, simultaneous with the grand preview at the fairgrounds.

The 1956 presentation covers more than 50,000 square feet of exhibition space in an area of over 15 acres, more than double available space last year.

According to Lamar Allen, fair manager, the demand by exhibitors for space was so great that all could not be accommodated.

Disaster Area Aid Provided

Now that Palm Beach, Broward and Dade counties have been designated a disaster area, farmers throughout the stricken section are eligible for loans from the government, it was announced in Washington by U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers, Ft. Lauderdale.

Farmers who suffered crop damage estimated at $50,000,000 as a result of the prolonged cold spell, now may apply for loans as follows, Rogers said on advice from the Department of Agriculture:

Emergency loans may be made available to individuals suffering loss, such loans being for three per cent, repayable as soon as practicable, and for purpose of replanting destroyed crops.

Rep. Rogers was further informed by the department that it will be necessary for the parties suffering the losses to show actual losses and ability to repay, as well as the inability to obtain the necessary funds from other sources.

The department also advised Rogers that loans up to $7,000 could be approved on the local level, with $25,000 approved on the state level. All sums over and above that would have to be approved in Washington.

The department further advised that the Farmers Home Loan Administration, through its state office in Gainesville, would have jurisdiction over the area, and that William T. Shadick, state director, would have direct supervision of the loans. On his recommendation they would then be approved by the Secretary of Agriculture in Washington.

It is estimated by the Department of Agriculture that disaster loans should require no longer than two to seven days to be processed, depending on the percentage of damage and the individual case. Money obtained under these loans would not be used to ex-

FAVORITE LITERATURE —

Today we'd like to review a book. We don't get into this type of writing very often, but this is a rather special book. The title: "The Congressional Anthology," a book of poems chosen by different members of Congress. One of the editors of the book is Congressman Billy Matthews, of Gainesville, who represents the people of Florida's 8th District.

The anthology is sponsored by the Congressional Prayer group, headed this year by Matthews, which meets every Wednesday morning in a private chapel in the Capitol. Proceeds from the sale of the little edition go to charity.

Each member of the group was invited to submit his favorite poem, and the contributions were then edited by a committee of four.

The Florida members of the group and their selections are: Charlie Bennett, "Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi," Dante Pascoli, "Maxim," by Eliezer de Grellet; Syd Herlong, "Let Me Hold Lightly," author unknown; Billy Matthews, "Apocalypse," by Gordon Link; Paul Rogers, "He Lived a Life," by H. M. Fifer.

UNNECESSARY TRIP — The other day the Federal Civil Defense office sent some of its biggest guns to a hearing before the Armed Forces Committee—and they might just as well stayed at home.

They wanted to testify in favor of a bill to allow the Volusia County Civil Defense members to use certain school facilities for their work. These facilities had been given to the local school board by the federal government with a few strings tied to them—and they wanted to untie or at least loosen those strings.

When the item was called before the committee, Congressman Syd Herlong stood up and said, "That is my bill, and I would like for the committee to put it on the calendar." The reply was almost instantaneous, "Granted."

The Civil Defense folks were pleased—even though they didn't get a chance to make the speeches they had so carefully prepared. It looked easy, but really it was Syd's deep seated friendships among the other members of Congress that were paying off.

WE GUESSED WRONG — Several weeks ago when we wrote about Bob Sikes being named to head the Florida campaign in Florida—we predicted that he would turn the job over to somebody else as soon as the Congress opened. We were almost right—but not quite.

Two weeks ago, Sikes met with Stevenson and brought him up to date on what had been done toward building an organization—then asked to be relieved of the job. It didn't work. When Sikes returned to Washington he was still head of the Florida forces for Stevenson—and will keep the job.

Now, in addition to his work in the House—he is running a hot campaign for Adlai and predicting victory. His office doesn't look like a campaign headquarters, because all of the work is being done within the state; but the long distance phone lines to all parts of the state are humming—and it looks like the "he-coon" is in high gear.

Could be that his willingness to handle this campaign stems from a desire to test his facility at handling a state-wide race? Maybe getting ready to run for governor some time?

TRUNK TIME — Every year, at this time, each member of Congress is given a trunk as part of his regular office supplies. They're for shipping files back to their districts, but many old timers have so many that they practically run out of their.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON—As the new congressional session gains headway, several measures which I introduced last year are pending and we are organizing intensive efforts to muster support and steer them to passage. These bills include:

MORE REALISTIC PLAN FOR SOCIAL SECURITY — The measure would let a social security recipient earn up to $1500 a year in outside income instead of the existing $1200 ceiling. It would recognize the high cost-of-living which poses such a problem to elderly persons retired under the social security plan.

WIDER WE RECOGNIZE THE NECESSITY FOR A LIMIT ON THE OUTSIDE EARNINGS OF RECIPIENTS. We also realize the gravity of the situation created by today's high cost of food, shelter, clothing and other necessities.

The bill, now before the Senate Finance Committee, would not only help the elderly. It would provide for the nation's economy a greater utilization of their vast reservoir of skills and experience.

BROADER PLAN FOR EXCHANGING STUDENTS WITH LATIN AMERICA — The bill would provide a program of scholarships beginning in the third-year college level for interchanging students with Latin American countries.

It is difficult to visualize a more effective way to eliminate misunderstandings and misconceptions between the United States and its Latin neighbors.

Unhappily, there still exists, in some quarters in the United States, a musical concept of Latin America as the land of perpetual revolution. And there is too little understanding of the cultures in the Latin countries.

Conversely, too many Latin Americans still regard the United States as the "colossus of the North"—trying to dominate their politics and American civilizations of the North and South.

The exchange student program offers the best plan for interchanging knowledge about American civilizations of the North and South.

We have received substantial support for the bill in educational circles, such as inter-American groups at the University of Florida and elsewhere about the country. The bill is before the Foreign Relations Committee.

RESEED PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION PLAN: The bill proposes speeding up the election of a President if the Chief Executive dies or becomes incapacitated before he has completed the first two years of his term.

In these circumstances, a new president would be chosen in the next general election. Under existing system, a vice president could hold the top office for nearly four years without submitting himself to the people.

I am convinced this bill affords a basic purification in the democratic process. It is before the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack last year graphically illustrated the danger that the presidency hangs by a single heartbeat.

TRIP LEASING — The bill would permit agricultural truckers to continue trip-leasing on the return trips home after carrying farm products, livestock and fish to market centers. This practice is extremely beneficial to citrus and all agricultural interests in Florida.

As mentioned in last week's newsletter, it is on the Senate calendar, and we have high hopes for its enactment.

ELIMINATION OF DISCRIMINATORY TAX AGAINST FOREIGN TRAVEL: A companion measure, passed by the

MIMS WELD SHOP

PHONE 7102

LIGHT RESCUE TRUCK (Inset) especially suited to rural rescue work is now being tested by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. It packs a collection of multi-purpose rescue tools including ropes, block and tackle, floodlights, a small generator, a hand pump (all shown above), an inhalator, and radiation detection instruments. The truck, costing a third of FCB's $18,000 rescue truck, can cross open country in four-wheel drive in any weather. (FCDA Photo)

EDITOR'S NOTE: Schatzi is taking the wintry air of Ohio. She will resume barking in the spring upon her return, unless the find words to write earlier.

Horticulture Head Resigns

GAINESVILLE — Dr. Walter Reuther, 44, head of the department of horticulture at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, College of Agriculture, has resigned. He will become chairman of the horticulture department of the University of California's Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside.

House, is before the Senate Finance Committee. Objections have been raised to certain administrative features of the measure, and we are working on amendments designed to insure passage.

The bill calls for elimination of the 10 per cent tax on travel from this country to Central America, the Caribbean, Mexico and Canada. Travel to Europe and South America is already exempted.

Continuation of the tax cannot be justified; on the other hand, its elimination would travel and stimulate the economies of the United States and other countries of North America.

ROADBUILDERS MEETING: The American Association of Roadbuilders met in convention at Miami Beach Jan. 11-14. I flew down to make the welcoming address on the 12th. In this talk, I emphasized the necessity for a comprehensive road-building program. The very survival of the nation may depend upon it. We are already riding on yesterday's roads, and the time for an interstate federal program is now. The proper method of financing should be to pay-as-we-go from current revenues, rather than saddle the taxpayer with heavy interest costs in a bond issue.

A proposal has been made that the commercial grade be divided into two categories designated as standard and commercial.

Standard would apply to beef from carcasses of younger animals of the grade, commercial to beef from mature animals falling in present commercial grades.

The proposed changes were advanced by the Cattle and Beef Industry Committee.

Memo From The Editor:

AKRON — Up here in the snowy reaches of a nation buzzing with presidential election year talk, I was glad to note that the Glades was heard from following Ohio Gov. Frank Lausche's TV appearance on "Meet the Press."

Akron Beacon Journal writer Hal Confrey reported from Columbus, the state capital, that Governor Lausche had hit the jackpot with his TV appearance. Lausche, as almost everybody knows by now, will be Ohio's Democratic "favorite son" candidate for president at the national party convention next summer.

His drawback, probably to be a fatal one, is that the five-time governor of the "state of presidents" is not politically known outside Ohio. Not only that, he is an ultra-conservative Democrat and therefore an arch-foe of the confused liberals and labor bosses of the party in the nation as well as in his own state.

Confrey's story on the nationwide reaction to Lausche after his "Meet the Press" appearance noted that "a Belle Glade, Fla. man" had wired the governor "We are deeply impressed with your answers to the commentators on your program last night. Good luck to you."

Here in Akron, I can't just put my finger on the identity of that Belle Glade man—maybe OBSERVER staffers not on a northern trek can ferret him out.

I found it an encouraging sign that someone in the Glades spoke up to encourage Lausche, helping strengthen Florida's individual voice apart from the "solid south" category where she is often mistakenly placed.

It was, of course, a solid Southerner, Dick Russell of Georgia, who among the first mentioned Lausche's name in discussing possible presidential candidates. Russell, a man of integrity, apparently early on recognized the same quality in Lausche, whose state has elected him to the governorship repeatedly.

Lausche's national TV appearance seems a first major step to introduce him to the nation as a whole, to let the average non-political American see what Ohio has to offer this time.

He had encouraging word from Delray Beach and Crestview, Fla., in the flood of telegrams from all over the U.S. after the TV program, Confrey reported. Republicans from Massachusetts and Democrats from California were in there, too, according to the account from Columbus.

Perhaps TV is on its way to performing its greatest public service, if in the forthcoming national political juggling, conventions, and campaigns, the garden variety American can see some of the lesser-known national political possibilities.

That way, the national Democratic and Republican conventions may develop into something truly representative of all members of the parties, as they were originally meant to be.

And to some of us, it would be great to know that the Democrats had something better to offer than Adlai or Ambitious Ave.

Even b'ar killers need protection, Master Crockett. Seven million youngsters got the first Salk polio vaccine in 1955. Your March of Dimes funds developed this vaccine, tested it, provided the first shots within days after it was proclaimed safe and effective. Now, March of Dimes research is making it even more effective. But we must still remember those, born too soon to be protected by the vaccine, who still need care and those tens of thousands who will be stricken in polio epidemics before the vaccine is made even more effective.

Mrs. Shive Is Honored Here On 75th Birthday

Mrs. Calvin A. Shive, one of Pahokee's pioneer women, marked her 75th birthday last Sunday.

The day was observed with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of Pahokee and Belle Glade joining her at Pahokee Methodist Church for the morning services, where she has worshipped for almost 35 years. The pastor, Rev. A. D. Houlgin, commented on her long and useful life in the church and community, and expressed congratulations in behalf of the membership. Baskets of yellow gladioli and lavender chrysanthemums at the altar were arranged in tribute to her by her family.

Following the church services, Mrs. Shive's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dulany, and son, Philip, entertained at their home with a dinner in her honor which was attended by the immediate members of her large family. In the afternoon, others including her grandchildren, great-grandchildren and friends, called at the Dulany home expressing "best wishes" and were served the traditional birthday cake and coffee.

Mrs. Shive, the former Rhoda Jane Herron, was born in Kansas City, Mo., and received her formal education at Lamar, Mo. There she met and married the late Rev. Calvin A. Shive, a minister of the Christian Church, on Nov. 13, 1898. Shortly after their marriage, Rev. Shive was assigned to serve his church as evangelist in the area then known as Indian Territory. His wife was also appointed by the Board of Christian Education to assist him in organizing new churches and to be the official organist.

They traveled over the pioneer area and established many Christian churches, most of which are active today.

While the Shives were in Florida for a visit with his parents, they heard many fabulous stories of the fertile Lake Okechobee farming section, and upon a trip to the Glades, decided to make Pahokee their home.

Since moving here in 1921, Mrs. Shive has been active in church and community life. She taught the Young Adults Sunday School Class for many years, and served as church Communion Steward during the 13 years that Rev. Shive presided in the Pahokee Methodist Church on the first Sunday of each month. She is a charter member of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Shive also is a charter member of the Pahokee Woman's Club and served as the club's second president. During her term of office the first club building was erected in 1925 on E. Main Street. She has been active in American Red Cross work, serving as an officer in 1928 when the worst hurricane of this area occurred.

For many years she has served on both the city and county election boards. She established and maintained for several years the first cafeteria for Pahokee school teachers and students, and served as Pahokee cafeteria supervisor for about 10 years.

Mrs. Shive is the mother of four daughters, Mrs. Ralph Grimes, Mrs. Duncan Padgett, Mrs. Dan Carpenter, and Mrs. Dulany, all of Pahokee, and two sons, Paul and John Shive, both deceased. She also has 12 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Tyler Catches Wildcat; Chickens Are Happy

LAKE HARBOR — If all of us weren't such dumb chicks, we'd know that the chickens hereabouts are singing the praises of Tom Tyler, of Bare Beach, these days. And for good reasons.

Seems as though wildcats have been responsible for the high mortality rate among the fowl population lately. So Tyler decided to do something about it. He set a trap in the yard of C. M. Lee, and Saturday it bore fruit. Well, not fruit exactly, but a 50-pound wildcat, which was better still.

Wildcats already have eaten all of the J. A. Henderson family's chickens, have feasted on 100 belonging to C. M. Lee, and were casting anxious glances at those owned by Marvin Lee and his family.

Tyler's catch is expected to add something to the longevity of chickens in the area, for awhile, at least.

pand business operations, but merely to provide assistance in replanting the destroyed crops. Rep. Rogers advised federal officials that this is the most serious crop loss suffered by Florida in the past decade.

Meanwhile, M. U. Mounts, county farm agent, said the recent cold weather ravaged more than 80 per cent of the vegetable crops in the Glades area and ruined thousands of acres of pasture land.

Mounts wired this report to U. S. Sen. Spessard Holland after appearing before the county commission. He described the weather as the coldest in many years and said some parts of the county are in "pretty bad shape."

H. L. Speer, assistant agent, at Belle Glade, said only about 2,000 acres of the nearly 30,000 acres of vegetable land escaped the cold weather. He added that some of the leafy vegetable crop probably could be salvaged and that some of the mature corn could be harvested.

Frost killed all pastured lands in the Glades, he said, and livestock growers will be forced to buy feed for their cattle.

5,331 Motorists Are 'Grounded'

TALLAHASSEE — A jolting 5,331 motor vehicle owners and operators received notice in December alone that their privilege to drive or register a vehicle had been suspended for non-compliance with the security requirements of the state's new Financial Responsibility Law. J. Edwin Larson, state treasurer and insurance commissioner, declared here last night.

While the state's new financial responsibility law has increased the number of insured cars to between 80 and 85 per cent of those registered in Florida, which he described as equal to the experience of 44 other states having the same type of law, Larson labelled as "a dangerous minority" the 15 to 20 per cent of uninsured cars that remain on the road.

The new law requires the owner or operator of an uninsured motor vehicle to deposit up to $25,000 in collateral with the state treasurer to cover damage claims arising out of a traffic accident in which a person is killed or injured or property damage totals $50 or more.

This collateral must be deposited within 30 days after the state treasurer receives a report of the accident, the penalty for failure being suspension of both driving and registration privileges until the security provisions of the law are satisfied.

Sales Tax Collections Establish New Record

TALLAHASSEE — Sales tax collections during December (on November sales) amounted to $6,740,377, another new high for this fiscal year.

Previous high for the year was set during the previous month when $6,297,645 was collected.

December collections in Palm Beach county totalled $313,400, an increase of $33,102 over the same month a year ago, according to Ray E. Green, state comptroller.

Use Caution In Spring Plantings, Growers Told

GAINESVILLE — There are indications that Florida vegetable production may exceed market demand and growers are advised caution in spring plantings. That is the word from the vegetable section of the Florida Agricultural Outlook Committee.

"Tomatoes, snap beans, celery and cucumbers are four items on which the group recommends following previously-set production figures — a 5 per cent reduction in spring plantings of tomatoes, no change in snap bean acreage, not more than last spring's celery plantings, and only a slight increase in spring cucumber plantings."

The committee says excessive amounts of any or all of these vegetables could result in below cost-of-production prices to producers.

Members of the committee are Dr. F. S. Jamison, and Stanley Rosenberg, vegetable specialists with the Agricultural Extension Service; Geoffrey David, Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association; Dr. Donald Brooke, Experiment Station vegetable specialist; Dr. W. E. Black, tomato committee manager; and J. B. Owens, USDA crop reporting service.
